

EFFECTIVELY MANAGING A REMOTE WORKFORCE

The new reality of doing business during the COVID pandemic and well beyond is the necessity of having remote employees. Unless your business can only be conducted by people in physical proximity of each other, you will likely be faced with some or all of your employees working remotely either all of the time or some of the time.

Being able to work remotely is now a recruiting tool used by many employers, and that will only grow stronger. We believe that accommodating some level of remote work when possible is now a business necessity. Another reality is that most managers have little to no experience in managing a remote workforce. Over the past year and a half, many have done a good job of “getting by,” of “patching it together,” of “figuring it out,” but such a piecemeal approach is ultimately non-sustainable in the long run.

Our Effectively Managing a Remote Workforce training is specifically designed to give your managers practical, everyday tools for communicating, motivating, setting expectations, and holding people accountable in this new way of working.

Intended Audience

Anyone who has the responsibility for managing remote employees

Training Duration

One 2-hour program can be delivered at your site, by video, or a combination of both

Learning Objectives

- A “how to” guide to the best practices of managing a remote workforce
- The importance of communication, clarity, and expectations
- Fostering a sense of “teamwork” among people who rarely or never see each other
- Answering the question “I really liked working from home; why do I have to commute again?”
- The importance of setting clear expectations
- Dealing with employees who are not performing in a remote environment
- Why teamwork matters
- What’s missing from our texts, emails, conference calls, and other digital communications?
- Maximizing remote collaboration
- Making technology your friend
- Accountability, a Shared Mission, and Continual Communication

Did you know we offer an array of trainings? Check out more of our trainings here.

We are a Hilb Group Company.

@WEAREHRK